

Calling Europe-based fermented food & beverage producers!

The EU-funded DOMINO project is inviting Europe-based fermented food/beverage producers and companies interested in the fermentation sector, to share their perspectives via a short online survey.

The survey aims to explore opportunities and challenges of bringing innovations in the fermented food sector to market.

The responses will help build a holistic picture of which changes in the production system are needed to strengthen the competitiveness of fermented food product innovations.

We would greatly appreciate it if you could spare 5-10 minutes to complete the questionnaire and/or share it with your professional network.
